—State Shipments Hit Hard— Hog Yards Closing Under Federal Rule

Five Nebraska Counties, Other Parts Country Are Quarantined

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

Omaha, Sioux City and Kansas City livestock yards Monday embargoed all hog receipts after Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan quarantined all hogs in five Nebraska counties in a move against vesicular exanthema disease.

The stockyards halted shipments pending clarification of the federal order, which included areas of Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington, Wyoming, all of California, and Box Butte, Douglas, Hall, Saunders and Washington Counties in Nebraska.

Regulations on the method of putting the order into effect are reported being transmitted to Federal Bureau of Animal Industry officials.

The telegram announcing the order said, "This order prohibits interstate movement of swine from such areas except for immediate slaughter to establishments specifically approved by chief of bureau and subject to processing in manner destructive to vesicular exanthema virus."

Packers have refused to buy hogs because they interpret the order as meaning that any hogs bought in the Omaha market, because it is a quarantine area, must be processed as though having had vesicular exanthema, even though they have not been exposed to the disease.

Thought Invalid
Processing of such hogs requires boning, cooking and canning of the meat.

However, General Manager Thompson of the Hormel Packing Co., Fremont, said Monday after a telephone conversation with the president of the American Meat Institute that the thought representatives of the Bureau of Animal Industry in Nebraska were incorrectly interpreting the order. Thompson said that he was advised to go ahead with normal operations except in cases of animals exposed to the disease. Swine industry representatives are en route to Washington to obtain clarification of the federal order, Thompson said.

State Disrupted
Meantime, the order in Nebraska has disrupted all normal flow of swine to market. A sales ring at Grand Island has more than 1,000 hogs in its pens and is awaiting orders on what to do with them. Others have been turning farmers back when they arrived with hogs for market.

The American Meat Institute following its meeting in Chicago last week, issued a statement that the disease is not communicable to humans or other meat animals. The interpretation placed on Secretary Brannan's order goes far beyond the request of the Chicago meeting that an emergency be declared.

Asked Slaughter
State veterinarians have recommended slaughter of all diseased animals and the disinfection of all lots.

They oppose an outright kill and burn or bury order. They urge that the government pay the difference between what the packers pay for infected hogs and the regular market price because of the compulsory kill order.

Nebraska has quarantined about 12,000 animals. Many of these have been completely recovered and show no signs of the disease further than loss of weight.

New Bishop And Wife Househunting

By BETH RANDEL JUSSEL
(Star Staff Writer)

Nebraska's new Methodist bishop and his wife arrived in Lincoln Monday to select their headquarters and admitted to two wishes:

1. They'd like to find a three-bedroom house and
2. They'd like a grandson.

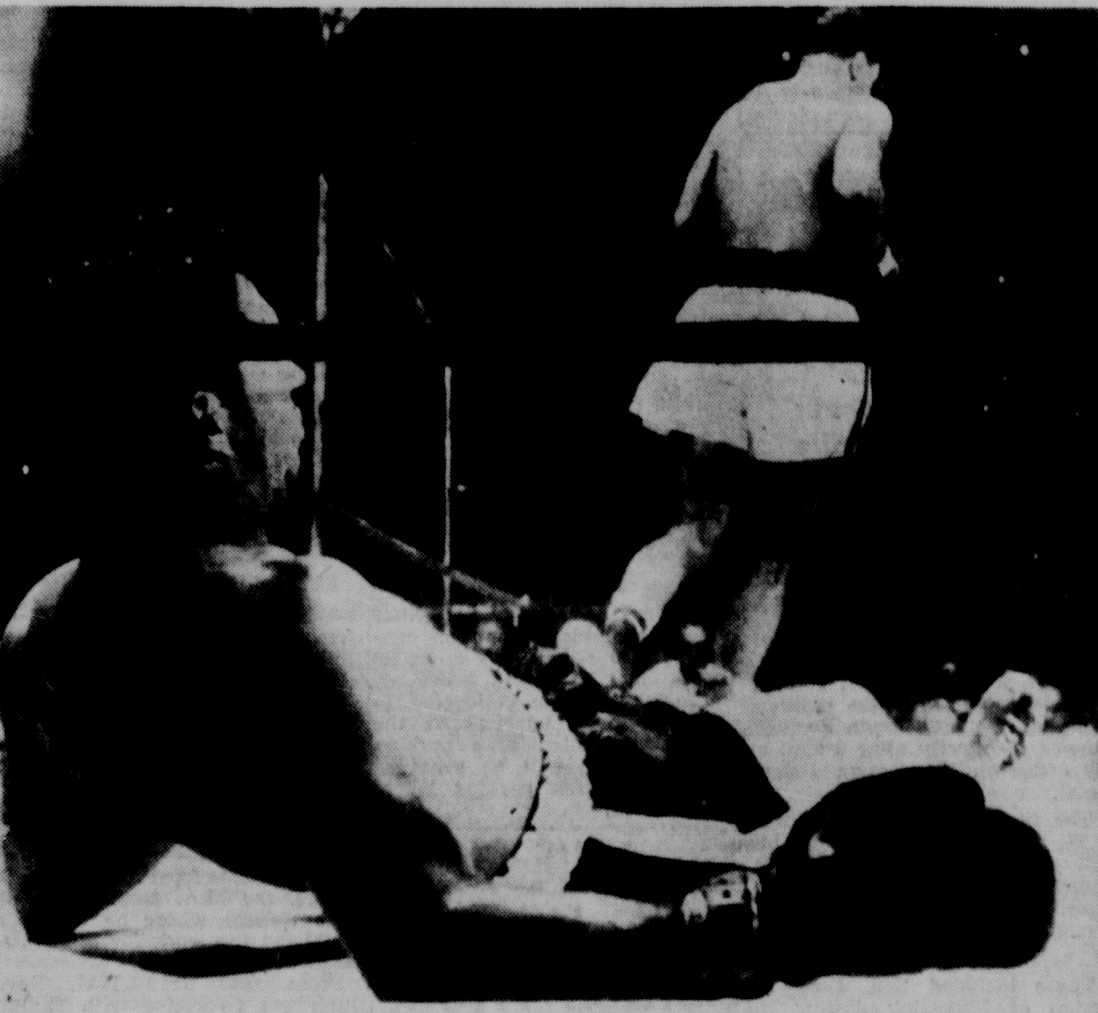

At least the housing situation was on the way to being remedied, however. For Dr. and Mrs. H. Bascom Watts had the help of a five-man committee of church officials, and the group set out early on a hunt for living quarters.

The native Southerners, who come here from Tulsa, Okla., where Dr. Watts was pastor of the Boston Avenue Church for the past 11 years, are extremely fond of their grandchildren—five girls. But they think it would be "nice" to have a grandson to carry on the family tradition as a Methodist minister.

The Watts' son, Rev. Ewart Watts, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church in El Paso, Tex., is the fourth generation of Methodist ministers in the family. A grandson might mean a fifth.

Even their son-in-law, the husband of their only daughter, Dorothy Dell, is a Methodist minister in Austin, Tex. He is the Rev. Sterling Wheeler, state director of Methodist student work in Texas.

On this, the Watts' second visit will be in Nebraska, deciding upon

First AF Wing Expected In Summer '53

The first wing of the Air Force personnel at the reactivated Lincoln air base is expected to arrive late in the summer of 1953, and the second wing late the same fall.

That was the word received from Col. John C. B. Elliott, Air Installations Officer of SAC by Ervin E. Peterson, president of the Lincoln Home Builders Association.

Col. Elliott estimated the number of families requiring housing off the base at near 4,000. He said that the Air Force-wide planning percentage basis arrived at a figure of 2,085, but that "our own experience indicates that the percentages are low and that the number of families that will require housing will be . . . probably closer to 4,000."

Hinged On Construction
Dates of arrival of troops "are contingent on the progress of construction at the base," Col. Elliott added.

Peterson is asking for a list of all those who rent residential property in Lincoln, whether apartments or houses, vacant or not.

"If we know that a certain number of vacancies exist it will mean building that many less new units and thereby guard against overbuilding," Peterson said.

Medical Costs Question Will Be Sent To State Legislature

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

Having "explored everything" in an effort to find a brake to hold the mounting medical services costs of the state assistance program, and finding no plan that met agreement of the various groups consulted, the Advisory Committee of County Commissioners and the Board of Control have concluded to ask for Legislative consideration, Mrs. Harold Prince, Board chairman, said Monday.

She explained that two acts are possible:
(1) Returning responsibility of all health services to the counties, such as several states have done, and
(2) Amend the assistance act by taking from it the health services section and put it in other sections of the statute. As part of the assistance act, it becomes necessary under federal regulations to require uniformity of treatment in all counties.

Reports from states that have County administration of health services almost uniformly show that costs vary widely due to local conditions. Under the uniformity required in Nebraska, setting up a rigid program would be unfair in some counties, Mrs. Prince said.

Opposition was also expressed to placing a maximum on the amount of health services in a single month. It was argued, she said, that the fixing of maximums soon become minimums.
"We don't want to run the risk of returning to inadequately operated poor farms," Mrs. Prince explained.

Col. Conrad, Sargent, Custer County commissioner, backed up the views of Mrs. Prince that in larger counties the work of the boards requires full time members.

A survey of Midwestern states brought the following information:
Colorado—Counties pay medical costs and no medical care is allowed recipients who leave the state.
Kansas—No uniform plan as counties pay costs and each county makes own rules on payments if recipient leaves state.
Iowa—Maximum of $4 is allowed for health services.
North Dakota—No health service costs are paid if relatives can meet expense. If not, $1 is allowed monthly each for doctors and drugs.
Wisconsin—Counties pay for health services and vary in caring for out of state needs of recipients.
Indiana—Counties responsible for medical plans, but considering having recipients pay first $3 of health services.

The plan to have recipients in Nebraska who now receive unlimited health services both inside and outside the state, to pay the first $3 of medical costs, was rejected by the advisory committee last week after earlier approving such a plan. It is estimated that it would save $100,000.

"We have sought to put brakes on the mounting health service costs with as little harm as possible to any of the really needy," Mrs. Prince explained.

Warm Weather
On Way Back,
But Not So Bad

By The Associated Press
An interlude of cooler weather, breaking the worst hot spell of the summer, was expected to hit bottom in Nebraska Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau said the mercury will start climbing again in the west Tuesday and in the rest of the state Tuesday night.

Temperatures were expected to be in the 80's, by contrast to 100-degree plus readings in the east Tuesday.

A mass of cool air from Canada moved across the state Sunday night and early Monday, bringing relief to sweltering Nebraskans.

Generally fair skies were predicted for Tuesday.

The highest temperature in the state Monday was 81 degrees, recorded at both Omaha and Chadron. Other top marks were Lexington 78, Imperial 75, Sidney 71, Scottsbluff 79, Grand Island 77, Lincoln 79, Valentine 78, Burwell 72 and Norfolk 78.

Sharp drops from even those readings took the mercury to 60 degrees at 6:30 p.m. at Imperial, 62 at Lexington and 63 at North Platte.

Other marks at that hour were Sidney 67, Scottsbluff 79, Chadron 77, Grand Island 66, Lincoln 71, Omaha 67, Valentine 77, Burwell 68 and Norfolk 69.

Aluminum Walkout Is Averted

Terms Of Settlement
Follow That Of Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A strike threat was lifted from the aluminum industry Monday night just as steel began pouring from the country's steel mills in respectable volume after a 55-day walkout.

The Wage Stabilization Board in Washington announced complete settlement of a strike the CIO United Steelworkers had set for 10 p.m. local time, Tuesday.

Terms of the settlement, announced by Aluminum Co. of America, follows substantially the pattern worked out by the USW with the basic steel industry.

Modified Union Shop
The aluminum settlement calls for a 21.4 an hour pay-fringe benefit package with 15 cents of the wage retroactive to March 10 and 4 cents effective July 1. Steelworkers got an average 21-cent hourly package with 16 1/2 cents effective March 1.

Both agreements call for a modified union shop under which new employees must apply for union membership, but may withdraw their application during the last 15 days of the first month of employment. Old employees are exempt.

Speed Steel Production
Steel producing companies appeared to be vying with each other in a race to restore full production and satisfy a steel-starved nation.

U. S. Steel Corp., which makes about one-third of the steel produced in America, said a third of its employees have been recalled and that half its iron making blast furnaces are in operation and two-thirds of the steel-making open hearths.

In Washington, the Defense Production Administration (DPA) warned that despite steel's fast comeback, thousands of metal workers face layoffs in coming weeks.

DPA Administrator Henry H. Fowler said it may be two or three months before manufacturers of civilian goods get a sufficient flow of new steel.

Man Injured As Train Hits Car

A 64-year-old Valparaiso man was in Bryan Memorial Hospital Monday night after a car he was driving was hit by a Union Pacific train a mile and a quarter north of Raymond.

The man, Frank Vejral, was driving between Valparaiso and Raymond at the time of the accident.

According to railway officials, the car was completely demolished. Vejral suffered multiple lacerations mostly on his head and other undetermined injuries.

Hospital officials report that he is doing as well as could be expected.

Norfolk Child
Dies In Crash

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—A 4-year-old boy was fatally injured Monday when he rode his bicycle out of a driveway and into the path of a truck, police reported.

The lad, Richard Moore, died of skull injuries in an ambulance on his way to the hospital.

Police said the driver of the truck was Eldon Bernhardt, 24. The boy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dana Moore.

Uncommon Condition For Cows:
Malcolm Bovine Blistered From Sun

Lincolmites whose red and aching torsos tell them that they have stayed too long in the sun can sympathize with poor Bossy, a cow owned by Dale Phillips, a farmer who lives near Malcolm.

The unfortunate bovine dallied too long in the sun, and as a result her sleek and glossy Holstein coat is now blistered and shaggy. The black parts of her body are not affected, but on the white parts, her hide is raw, and most of her hair is missing.

Her doctor, Robert W. White of Lincoln, prescribed a red, oily preparation for her burned parts, and told Phillips to keep her out of the sun. As a result, Phillips covered her with gunny sacks.

Dr. White said the condition was not common among cows, but that there have been several sunburned cows in Lancaster County this year. He said a few appear every year.

The condition is probably caused by the cow traveling through weeds to which it is allergic, Dr. White said. Upon exposure to the sun, the lighter portions of the cow becomes "blistered," he explained. The skin burns and the hair peels off, he said.

'Every Time Commies Stick Their Heads Up They Get Hurt,' Returning Admiral Says

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. William M. Fechteler, chief of Naval operations, said Monday he thinks there will be an armistice in Korea — "principally because the communists want it."

He also reported that the Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa have become "a great potential" in the shifting fortunes of the Far East.

Fresh from a Far Eastern tour, during which he watched shore bombardments from the battleship Iowa and visited command headquarters in Korea, Fechteler said the Reds are getting fed up with their war against the United Nations.

"Every time the Communies stick their heads up they get hurt," he told reporters.

Fechteler had warm praise for the Chinese Army, Navy and Air Forces on the anti-Communist island stronghold of Formosa.

He indicated they would get more U.S. help in training for amphibious operations. Such training would be required if the Nationalists planned to return to Communist-held mainland across the Formosa Straits. But Fechteler did not mention plans for any such operation.

The naval head, who is a member of the joint chiefs of staff, top military advisers to President Truman, was expected to make a full report to the joint chiefs on his 17-day journey to Formosa, Japan, the Philippines and Korea.

Fechteler's comments on Chiang's forces, and his hint that amphibious training would be stepped up, were likely to re-open speculation on the role of the Nationalists in the Far East struggle against Communism.

President Truman gave the Navy command over Formosa and its vicinity March 15.

Since the outset of fighting in Korea, the Seventh Fleet, part of the Pearl Harbor command, has maintained a "Formosa patrol" under presidential directions to prevent any Communist invasion of the island. At the same time, Truman asked Chiang to forego any attempts at operations against the mainland.

Nebraskan Is

At Boys Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Craig Swoboda, 17, Norfolk, Neb., governor of the 1952 Nebraska Boys State, was chosen vice president of the American Legion sponsored Boys Nation Monday night.

Running on the winning "Federalist Party" ticket with Swoboda was the elected president, Howard Morton, 17, Fort Worth, Tex.

"Nationalists" Kerry Freeman, 17, Tulsa, Okla., and Zane Bergeson, 18, Cornish, Utah, opposed the winners.

NO NEW SIGN OF KOREAN TRUCE

MUNSAN (Tuesday) (INS)—Allied and Communist staff officers of the Korean armistice delegations meet again in Panmunjom today but little hope was held of any break in the truce deadlock during the seven-day recess set by the Allies last Saturday.

The Allied staff officers failed at a 40-minute meeting Monday to obtain from the Reds the reason why they wanted the staff officers to meet during the recess.

Col. Duncan S. Somerville of Cumberland, Md., the senior Allied staff officer, said the wording of the draft armistice agreement was gone over Monday and there was agreement on 50 paragraphs but not on interpretation of the 51st paragraph on exchange of prisoners.

Gladden was brought to Headquarters when employees at the Lincoln Singer Sewing Machine store recognized him from a circular put out nationally from their Kansas City office.

Gladden previously has been given 67 years of a maximum sentences for forgery, burglary, embezzlement and three escape attempts, FBI records show. This includes a three-year sentence for forgery in Nebraska.

No decision has been made by Lincoln officials as to where Gladden will be sent. He is known to be wanted for investigation in Iowa, Illinois, South Carolina, Missouri, Indiana, Kansas, California and Texas.

Gladden told investigating officers he has been staying at the Omaha hotel for the past few days, coming to Lincoln Monday.

Robinson Thinks He'll Cop Post

... As State Demo Chief

Francis V. Robinson, Ashland, candidate for state chairman of the Democratic party, said Monday night following a Lincoln strategy meeting that he thought he had enough votes pledged to support him to be elected at the Demo convention Aug. 12 in Grand Island.

Robinson, backed by the "new life" group which controlled Lancaster and Douglas County conventions, will oppose current Chairman William Meier of Minden, who seeks re-election.

Thomas Lanigan of Grand Island says he has been asked to run for the chairmanship, but hasn't made up his mind whether to do so.

Robinson also predicted victory for Grace E. Harmer, Lexington, national committeewoman seeking re-election, and Frank Morrison, McCook, who wants to replace retiring James C. Quigley of Valentine as national committeeman. Ed Dosek, Lincoln, has also announced he will seek the committeeman post.

Robinson, a lawyer who is now running a farm in Cass County, has been active in Democratic circles since 1934. In 1936 he served as executive assistant to Quigley, who was then both state chairman and national committeeman. Robinson was in the state attorney general's office in 1937 and 1938, and served with OPA in Washington, Denver and Chicago during World War II.

Robinson's wife, Mrs. Blanche Robinson, has also been active in party work, and is now the woman member from the Second Congressional District on the state executive committee.

"We haven't elected any Democrats since 1940," said Robinson, "and we need a clean slate to reconcile all the differences in the party."

7 Missionaries To Speak At First Nazarene Rally

Seven recently-returned missionaries will take part in a regional missionary rally to be held at the First Church of the Nazarene, 33rd and C, at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 1.

The service will be preceded by a welcome dinner in the Nazarene Youth Center at 6 p.m. Dr. Remis Rehfeldt, Kansas City, general secretary of the foreign missions of the denomination, will be in charge of the party.

The missionaries will tell of India, Peru, Nicaragua, Cuba, and the Philippine Islands. Each is home on the first furlough.

Dr. Edwin Whitford returned from five years in the hospital at Basim, Bihar, India. She sailed for India in 1941 but was informed at Santo Tomas in the Philippines for three years until her return to the U.S. in 1945.

Rev. Louis Hagopian has been in Nicaragua since 1948, serving as missionary in charge at Granada and Managua. He is also pastor at San Jose, director and teacher at the Bible school and supervisor of the farm. After receiving his doctorate from Pasadena College, Calif., he was pastor for two years at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Rev. Edwin Douglas assisted in the Spanish Nazarene mission in New Mexico, and has been working among the Aguarunas of Peru since 1947. Both Rev. and Mrs. Douglas are graduates of U.C.L.A. Besides being a minister, he has trained in agriculture, chemistry, botany, epidemiology, sanitation, and tropical diseases.

Rev. Philip Zuremski, also a missionary in Peru, has been at Chiclayo since 1947. He is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, Kansas City, Mo.

Rev. Joseph Pitts, who was a chaplain at Grand Island Lunon and is now a missionary in the Philippines, has been there since 1948.

Rev. John Hall, a graduate of Pasadena College, has been in Cuba since 1947.

—Hero's Welcome— All-Out Fight Pledged By Stevenson

Cheering Springfield
Thousands Greet Him

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson rode in triumph from Chicago to Springfield Monday where he told cheering thousands he will fight for the Democratic presidential nomination with all his heart and mind and soul.

An estimated 25,000 people jammed into the courthouse square here and stood under a blistering 97-degree sun to give a hero's welcome to the reluctant winner of the Democratic party's highest honor.

"My heart is not light and I have no elation today," he said. "I have been running away—not toward that job." But then he said he intends to fight for the presidency with all the strength he possesses.

He made this promise standing on a bunting draped platform in front of the time-weathered old courthouse in which Abraham Lincoln once warned against "a house divided" on the issue of slavery.

Wherever the train stopped along the route from Chicago to Springfield, hundreds of people were waiting for a glimpse of the governor. He was in good spirits in his polished oratory he mixed humor with grave words of humility that he had been chosen for this job.

At Pontiac, Ill., Stevenson stood on the train steps to receive the crowd's cheers. He spotted an old friend and cried: "I'm in terrible trouble now."

The friend replied: "Oh, no, you're not."

Again in Bloomington—where he was reared—he told some 3,000 people: "I have no feeling of triumph, exultation, or elation—only a feeling of profound obligation and duty."

At Lincoln, he said: "I had hoped so much to continue my work here in Illinois. But destiny seems to have had another plan for me. And I hope to be able to do whatever job I may have as well as I can."

Then he got off one of his off-hand cracks: "This hot weather is wonderful for the corn—but it's sure tough on candidates."

Equalization Board Expecting County Valuation Protests

Meeting of the State Board of equalization is scheduled for Wednesday at which time it is expected that some counties will appear to protest increases to bring them up to 50 per cent of the 20-year average of land sales.

Inquiries have been received by Tax Commissioner Philip Johnson from Holt and Box Butte Counties on the reasons for the increase but no county has as yet asked to be heard. It is expected that at meetings of the county boards on Monday decisions would be reached on whether to enter protests.

New Automobile Is Bought For Governor

The state has purchased a new Lincoln automobile from Safety Patrol funds to replace a Buick used almost exclusively for transportation of Gov. Val Peterson on official trips. The new car, which because of use for governmental purposes does not require payment of excise tax, was bought for $2,972.71.

Reformatory Straw, Equipment Is Hit By Air Base Fire

Fire which swept a straw stack, a baler and a tractor at the Lincoln Air Base did an estimated $2,000 damage to Reformatory property, Superintendent George Morris told The Star Monday night.

Navy firemen rolled a truck to the fire, north of the north-south runway, to prevent any flames from reaching 400,000 gallons of high-octane gasoline stored about 1,000 feet away.

There were no injuries. The tractor and baler were "burned up" and the stack and bales completely destroyed. Cause was believed to be exhaust from the tractor or baler.

The Reformatory leases the land from the city for baling hay and straw.

Added by a 15-mile-per-hour wind, the flames leveled the straw stack in less than 10 minutes.

Geo. Salladin Rites Are Set For Wednesday

Funeral services for George E. Salladin, 55, manager of the Lincoln Farm Loan Branch of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of New Jersey, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Rev. William A. Cross officiating.

Mr. Salladin died of a heart attack at his home, 3100 Van Dorn, early Monday.

Although he had not been feeling well early last week, he had attended a dinner Saturday evening, and did not appear ill, according to friends.

He had lived in Lincoln 30 years and had been associated with the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company since 1922 when he became financial correspondent for the Nebraska Investment Company.

Since Aug. 1, 1935, Mr. Salladin had been manager of the Farm Loan Branch of the Mutual Benefit firm.

Born Feb. 8, 1897 at Milford, where he spent his boyhood, he was graduated from the University of Illinois and was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Mr. Salladin was on the board of directors of the Lincoln Country Club, and was a vestryman of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

Surviving are a son, Richard C., at home, and a sister, Mrs. Walter Vreeland of Arcadia, Calif. His wife, Janet, died Dec. 14, 1930.

In lieu of flowers for the funeral, the family requests that contributions be made to the Nebraska Heart Association in Lincoln. Burial will be at Wyuka.

'Better Highways Need More Cash'

Ike Starts To Organize Campaign

Returns To Denver
From Vacation Site

DENVER (AP)—Setting a fast pace, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower returned to his campaign headquarters desk Monday and tackled the task of organizing his drive for the White House.

The Republican presidential nominee, well rested after 10 days of fishing and a little political planning in the Colorado Rockies, showed up shortly after 8 a.m. at his office in the Brown Palace Hotel.

The first order of business was a 2 1/2 hour conference with his new political chief of staff, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, and other members of his personal staff.

Seaton Included
These included Sen. Fred A. Seaton of Nebraska; Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., the general's executive assistant, and Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

After the session, Hagerty told newsmen the meeting was devoted to campaign organizational problems, preparatory to a series of conferences the general will hold here later in the week with party leaders.

Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota also arrived at Eisenhower headquarters Monday. Judd plans to remain most of the week to assist in planning the general's campaign against the Democratic presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

Nixon With Him
Eisenhower was accompanied to Denver by his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California.

Nixon returned Monday to California for a brief rest.

On Thursday, Nixon will address the Ohio State Republican convention in Columbus.

Gov. Val Peterson appointed William H. Sprague of Omaha to the Board of Pharmacy Examiners.

Sprague, named for a three-year term beginning in November, replaces George E. Thompson of Oshkosh.

Blood Drive Behind—Yours Needed Today

Lincoln fell down on its blood donation quota for the armed forces Monday.

But Capital City residents still have a chance to meet the July donor quota of 300 pints. They have only today in which to do it, however.

Harold Hill, secretary of the local Red Cross chapter, said Lincolnites provided but 115 pints of blood during donating activity Monday. The bloodmobile will remain in Lincoln Tuesday, and Hill said there are openings for 50 more donors in addition to those already scheduled.

300 Pint Quota
Lincoln's quota for the two-day bloodmobile visit is 300 pints. Hill said that if 50 more volunteer to give a pint of blood, in addition to those scheduled for the day so far, the quota will be met.

Defense Department officials stated last week that the blood situation at present is very critical, and urged citizens to give of their blood now to save the lives of wounded United Nations troops now fighting in the Orient, and to build up a badly needed armed forces and civil defense plasma stockpile.

The bloodmobile will not again visit Lincoln until Aug. 25-26, so Tuesday is the last chance to make up the July quota of 300 pints.

Free Parking
Hill said donors may either come to the blood donation center unannounced or make an appointment by calling 2-5888.

The bloodmobile is located in air conditioned quarters at the Cornhusker Hotel. Free parking for all donors will be provided by the Car-Park parking lot at 13th and M.

Two Killed, One Badly Hurt In Gordon Wreck

GORDON, Neb. (AP)—An Oklahoma truck driver, James Rogers, was in serious condition with a broken back in a Gordon hospital Monday as a result of a crash which killed two young people near here Saturday.

The dead were Darlene Fielder, 17, and Leonard Wright, 19, both of Pine Bluffs, S. D.

Their car collided with Rogers' truck just south of the South Dakota line.

The accident occurred on Highway 27, on which construction is underway. Visibility was obscured by dust at the time of the accident.

The deaths brought to 173 the number of highway fatalities in Nebraska this year.

Building Strike In Third Week; AGC, Unions Adament

The three-week-old Lincoln trade unions strike continued without notable progress Monday, still with no sign of negotiations being called for by either the unions or the Associated General Contractors.

Negotiations are continuing between the unions—painters, carpenters, and laborers—and independent contractors. A number of the independents have signed with both the carpenters and painters, including the firm hiring the largest number of painters.

No negotiations have been reported by the laborers with the independents.

When the strike first began, Olson and Assenmacher Construction Companies, both members of the AGC, said three weeks would not hurt their impending work on the Lincoln Air Base. Both were awarded contracts for the work.

But the companies did report that three months of the strike "definitely would hurt" their work progress. All the contracts signed by the independents with unions have contained the provisions specifically rejected by the AGC. John Miller, AGC agent, said the seven firms he represents weren't compromising their stand.

Lincolnite Divorces Mate Missing 7 Years After Fleeing From Reds

A Lincoln woman has received a divorce from her husband she last saw in war-torn Berlin seven years ago.

Mrs. Malvine Eltermanis, 6825 Havelock, a native Latvian, told District Judge Harry A. Spencer that she and her husband fled to Berlin to escape the advancing Red armies in February, 1945. He went to a town some distance away and said he would send for her, she said, but that was the last she ever heard of him.

She said she had tried, through the Red Cross and the Displaced Person Organization, to find some trace of him, but had been unable to do so. To this day, she does not know whether he is dead.

Mrs. Eltermanis came to America and to Nebraska in February, 1950, through the efforts of the Lutheran displaced persons program. She is at present working at the Goodyear plant in Lincoln.

She and her husband, Volde-mars, were married in Riga, Latvia, on Sept. 1, 1940. Mrs. Eltermanis has established two years residence in Nebraska, and had to meet the requirements of two-years abandonment in order to obtain a divorce.

Peterson Has Political Look; Wears Tie Decorated With Gold Elephants

Gov. Val Peterson was decked out in a green tie decorated with gold elephants, Monday, the gift of Edward McKie, Omaha Democratic leader who approved the color but objected to the decorations. McKie explained that the tie had been presented him as a joke by the Rotary club.

Also a gift from McKie was a "Democratic" ebony elephant, the seventh to decorate the governor's office. McKie in a letter to the governor said he purchased the elephant in Panama from a merchant who was overstocked on the Republican emblems.

He explained that it could be detected as a Democratic rather than a Republican elephant because of its militant attitude. The governor also has two donkeys, gifts from friends, which he suggested should be put out to pasture. He explained that the Democratic party has been in power too long and needs a rest.

He recognized immediately that his statement was "dangerous" as the Republicans have been in power in Nebraska 12 long years.

As to the action of the Democratic national convention, the governor said they had selected "the strongest candidate they could get and a man of the highest integrity." He expressed the opinion that although Adlai Stevenson was a first rate candidate, Eisenhower's chances would be neither helped nor hurt by the selection.

Nebraska GOP Heads Talk State Campaign Here

Members of the Republican party's state ticket and State Chairman David Martin discussed fall campaign plans here Monday.

Martin said plans are for a caravan, similar to that which has toured the state in several previous general election campaigns.

Sept. 22 is the tentative date for the caravan to start out.

Martin said he has asked both national headquarters and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's Denver headquarters for the presidential nominee to visit Nebraska during the campaign.

By Way Of Precedent

There appears to have been an attempt to make political capital out of the fact that permanent Chairman Sam Rayburn, presiding over the closing sessions of the Democratic National Convention, did not permit Sen. Paul Douglas and Sen. Estes Kefauver to reach the microphone during the third call of the states in nominating a candidate for the presidency.

Sen. Kefauver, who led on the first two roll calls, wanted to withdraw. Sen. Douglas, who had fought doggedly for his friend throughout the convention, accompanied him to the platform and arm-in-arm with Sen. Kefauver advanced toward the microphone. They were not recognized until end of the roll call, and as a result there were cries of discrimination. Actually Chairman Rayburn, a skilled and seasoned parliamentarian who has presided over the lower house of Congress longer than any other man, had no choice. There can be no interruption with the progress of a roll call except for the specific purpose of polling delegations upon demand of legally seated delegates to the convention.

Security Administrator Averell Harriman and

Gov. Dever of Massachusetts, both of whom obtained recognition for the purposes of withdrawing their candidacies, followed procedure. They asked for and obtained recognition before the start of the third roll call.

There was ample precedent for Chairman Rayburn's action. Long forgotten now, a similar development took place during the Democratic National Convention of 20 years ago in the same city of Chicago. In the struggle between the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. Al Smith, a struggle intensified by the existence of the two-thirds rule in the Democratic party, former Vice President Jack Garner withdrew his candidacy. Garner did not appear in person but entrusted his announcement to a friend who in advance of the roll call appeared in front of the microphone and made the announcement.

The fact is that Sam Rayburn presided over the convention with great skill and fairness. He was a model of patience on many occasions and in no small degree contributed to the harmonious climax which marked the convention's close.

All For The Best

These recent weeks should strengthen the pride of Americans in America. It is impossible to escape the conclusion that what is happening and what has happened is for the best.

With a surprising swiftness, a strike within a basic industry—steel—collapsed through an unexpected agreement reached by management and labor. There will be those who insist that the Taft-Hartley law should have been invoked in the beginning. Yet we have the feeling that the settlement finally arrived at rests upon a sounder foundation and contributes to better understanding in a vital, basic industry than would have resulted from any enforced agreement.

We make democracy work in this country. It works out on the farms and in the cities, with the full safeguards of individual liberty, and at the same time the achievement of national welfare. The settlement of the steel strike cannot be dismissed lightly. It is one of the most impressive events of 1952.

Mr. Quigley Retires

Mr. James C. Quigley of Valentine, Democratic National Committeeman, has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election to a post which he has held since 1936—a matter of 16 years.

It is a job that carries with it a lot of irritation and consequently calls for endless patience on the part of the one who occupies it. It also calls for heavy individual financial sacrifice, which Mr. Quigley freely and gladly made, because a national committeeman draws no salary.

ary and must meet the expense of the office out of his own pocket. Throughout the years Mr. Quigley has been called upon to devote a great deal of his time and energy in unselfish spirit to party matters and he is entitled to the thanks of his party associates.

The need of the Democratic Party in Nebraska at this time is a spirit of unity. It has a fine candidate for the presidency, a magnificent candidate for governor. It should unite to wage an aggressive fighting campaign.

George Salladin

George Salladin lived quietly, unobtrusively, getting his greatest satisfaction out of a wide circle of friends in Lincoln and in Nebraska.

He had a great capacity for friendship. Neither by word nor deed did he consciously bring hurt to any individual. Invariably he was a thoughtful considerate man, with a smile of greeting for all those with whom he came in contact. He had depth of understanding, which expressed itself in a deep, abiding faith in his state and in his community.

Few knew of his interest in agriculture, the farms of the state, or of his genuine enthusiasm for the program which has seen a steady, constant improvement of wildlife in Nebraska. He was a friend of the creatures of the woods and the streams, a man of deep attachment to the fields and to the constant development of the Nebraska farms. And many a young boy will remember the encouragement George Salladin gave him.

His sudden death Monday came as a great shock and source of grief to many.

The Passing Of Evita

It was only natural that Eva Peron, who wielded more political power than any other woman in the world, would be a controversial figure. To the millions of "descamisados"—the "shirtless ones"—she was an idol, a symbol of government dedicated to the laborers while retaining the trappings of a dictatorship. To millions of other residents of Argentina she was a woman consumed with the lust for personal power, a demagogue who threw pennies to the peasants while appropriating bags of gold for herself.

Neither of these extreme views appear as if they will stand the test of historical objectivity. Beloved and hated, generous and arrogant, beautiful and tight-lipped, professing love for the masses and wearing clouds of mink—Eva Peron was a paradox. Perhaps in her own heart she believed she was an angel serving her chosen people; perhaps, on the other hand, she recognized that she was leading only a transparent life which would not stand the test of time. Who are mortals that they shall attempt to pierce the armor of a human being and testify to what lay beneath the surface?

The mourning that now dominates Argentina is unquestionably a genuine expression of deep-felt grief. Little Evita, a lovely blonde companion for the dark and dictatorial Juan Peron, is no more. The ravages of disease, reported to be cancer, struck her down as none of her political enemies had been able to do. And her day of death, July 26, has been proclaimed a day of national mourning in Argentina "for the rest of history."

Perhaps, perhaps. Eva Peron was an unusual woman while alive; in her death she may find an affection among all the people of Argentina which she could not gain in her breath-taking rise from actress to the pinnacle of Argentine political power.

Sidewalks That Move

Pedestrians of the future may find themselves propelled on a new "moving sidewalk" unveiled in New York this week, a sidewalk which is geared for speeds from one to five miles an hour and looks like a horizontal escalator.

Having been given a series of tests over a period of a year, the experimental model is scheduled to be put into operation soon in supermarkets, parking lots, underground pedestrian overpasses and the like. It will put an end to the need to walk in many cases, thus providing the abolition of the last form of exercise for many individuals in this age of the automobile.

The moving sidewalk has some specific applications which might prove interesting here at home. The slow-moving mass which departs from Sherman Field at the end of a Sunday doubleheader could be put on one. Another might be installed at Pinewood Bowl, running on rollers from the top to the bottom of that amphitheater. Still another could be located with advantage along the main streets, thus giving the windowshopper the ideal pace at which to move from store to store. And then, when the era of the future is at its peak, a moving sidewalk should run from locker room to 50-yard line at Memorial Stadium, thus making it unnecessary for Cornhusker footballers to expend energy running back and forth before the game and at half-time. The opposition, of course, will be expected to do it the old-fashioned hard way—on foot.

Air Force Convinced Flying Saucers Exist

WASHINGTON—While the politicians have been watching the none-too-mysterious conventions, some other people, including those in the Air Force, have been watching a mysterious rash of flying saucers.

Furthermore, the Air Force, long skeptical about flying saucers, has now made some official and important admissions.

Admission No. 1 is that they have now detected something that looks like flying saucers on radar at the same time that people have claimed they saw flying saucers. In other words flying saucers are not just cloud freaks or hallucinations. If so, they could not be detected on a radar screen.

Admission No. 2 is that flying saucers could possibly be space ships from another planet. The reason for this admission is that it will soon be possible for us to build a space ship to visit the moon if we are willing to spend the money for research and construction.

Our current research into atomic power and supersonic speeds already has progressed so far that it is definitely known such a ship can be built, but the big expense would come from creating atmosphere inside the ship to support human life while traveling from one planet to the other.

Therefore if we are this close to interplanetary travel, Air Force officers admit that a more advanced civilization could be keeping this planet under surveillance through flying saucers.

Admission No. 3 — It has not been announced, but scientific observation posts have been set up in New Mexico, where we are testing guided missiles, to track flying saucers also. A number of flying saucers have been seen in the Southwest, and since trained specialists are already on the job in that area with the latest scientific gadgets, the Air Force has ordered them to watch for flying saucers and track them scientifically.

In addition, the Air Force has instructed its 24-hour air observers to watch not only for enemy planes but for flying saucers. Furthermore, it has set up special cameras on its radar screens to keep a pictorial record of flying saucers or any other strange objects flitting across the screens.

Finally, Wright Field, at Dayton, O., center of all Air Force research, has been instructed to chart all flying saucer patterns, find out whether their light behavior is similar, and what characteristics they seem to have in common.

This was started only two months ago and no similar patterns have yet been reported, except for the peculiar fact that more flying saucers have been observed around U. S. atomic centers and around Wright Field than anywhere else. This could be because observers from another planet were interested in our atomic and air development, though the Air Force thinks it's more likely to be because the population around these bases is more sensitive to something strange in the skies.

—STEEL DIFFICULTY—

The administration began working two weeks ago to settle the steel dispute so that President Truman or Phil Murray could announce it at the Democratic convention. That may have been why a special price concession was offered the steel industry by the White House at that time, despite Truman's veto of the price increase proposed last March by Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilizer who resigned after Truman reversed him.

Here is the inside story of the negotiations which began two weeks before the convention and at first blew up in smoke.

About a week before the convention, U. S. Steel's Ben Fairless went to the White House and informed Defense Mobilizer John Steelman. "If you'll give us a worthwhile price increase, I will guarantee to have the strike settled within one hour of my return to Pittsburgh."

"What do you call worthwhile, Mr. Fairless?" Steelman asked. Fairless said he wanted a price boost averaging $5.65 for all types of steel.

Steelman finally gave Fairless an assurance that the government would permit the $5.65 boost, then urged Fairless to return to Pittsburgh immediately to settle the strike "within an hour" as promised.

Steelman confidently passed the good news on to both Roger Putnam and Ellis Arnall.

The next day, however, Steelman was abruptly surprised by a long-distance call from Fairless. "I can't settle this strike for $5.65-per-ton increase," he said. "The union has just increased its demands. I'll need a bigger price boost."

Steelman then phoned Phil Murray to ask about the "new union demands." In blunt language, Murray told Steelman that the union had not altered its position one iota. Murray proceeded to prove his point by reiterating the union position.

It was at this point that Steelman became convinced that the steel companies were negotiating in bad faith, and were not out to settle the strike but to get all the traffic would be.

Economic Stabilizer Putnam, equally furious, told a private conference: "These steel people apparently think they can blackmail and doublecross the government. They're not going to get away with it as long as I'm here. As far as I'm concerned, they're only entitled to $3.50 a ton increase. They can wait till hell freezes over before they get any more."

Despite these determined vows of no price increase, the same officials went into a quick reverse last week when the President turned on the heat.

Thus, if the compromise proposed by Defense Mobilizer Wilson had been accepted last spring, the nation would have saved itself $1,500,000,000 in lost steel and lost wages, while Mr. Truman would have saved himself some serious political headaches resulting from the bitter resignation of Charles Wilson.

America To Experience A High-Level Campaign

WASHINGTON—This is a moment of pause in which we can be duly thankful for blessings received. The prospect is for a campaign on a higher level than we have known in this country for a very long time. It is as though a cleansing wind had blown away the dank air of suspicion.

There will be those who will throw mud. But the two principals will set the tone and it will be one of dedication to American ideals and to the cause of American responsibility in a world torn asunder and assailed by a tyranny more terrible than has ever been seen before.

How profound this change is can be realized when it is recalled that four months ago the prospect was for a savage and divisive contest between President Truman and Sen. Robert A. Taft. A small and fanatical following on each side might have relished such a fight. But the times are too serious for an interval of self-destruction.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has been the beginning made it clear that in seeking the highest office in the land his chief aim is to bring about a re-dedication to the faith of America. It is above all a renewal of religious faith which Eisenhower hopes to quicken. Even more in his private conversation than in his public addresses, he talks of this need and it is likely to be the dominant theme in the weeks to come.

While one speech does not make a campaign, Gov. Adlai Stevenson's acceptance address after his nomination had in it a kind of nobility that found an instant response. The reaction to that speech has been remarkable. It seemed the beginning of a new era, initiated by a man with a deep awareness of the longing of Americans for something more than the cheap and easy lures of most political speeches. From that high beginning Stevenson can go on to wrestle with the troubles before him, and they are formidable troubles. The Democrats suffered self-inflicted wounds in the course of their convention just as did the Republicans.

They were afflicted by the "liberals" who, in their determination to have their own way, committed folly by both word and deed. In their childish "stop Stevenson" movement they gave the opposi-

Garden Glances With The Moon

The heart is a garden
Where thought flowers grow;
The thoughts that we think
Are the seeds that we sow.
Every kind, loving thought
Bears a kind, loving deed;
While a thought that is selfish
Is just like a weed.
We must watch what we think
Each minute all day;
And pull out the weed thoughts
And throw them away.
And plant loving seed thoughts
No thick is a row
That there will not be room
For weed thoughts to grow.
—Katherine Merrill

Today the moon is in the watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Scorpio. Third lunar quarter will begin tonight near eight o'clock. Thursday afternoon at 1:34 the moon will enter the fiery and barren sign, Sagittarius. Saturday at 4:25 in the afternoon, it will enter the movable, earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Capricorn. Then Monday afternoon at the same hour, it will enter the fixed, airy and barren sign, Aquarius.

If you are ambitious despite this heat, you might lift and divide your iris. Doing so now will insure blooms next spring. They seldom bloom the first year when lifted and divided in the autumn; neither do newly purchased rhizomes. Also, it is an excellent time to choose and plant new hemerocallis. When you see them in bloom right in a garden, you know their height and exactly how they will look next year in your own garden. The clones—don't say "roots" or "bulbs" for they are neither—will scarcely know they have been disturbed and will show an immediate growth.

When planting seeds during the summer, whether annual, perennial or biennial, make the trench with the corner of your hoe as usual, then fill it with water until it is quite damp, then sow the seed. This will insure moisture for a time and assist in rapid germination. Because the days are now shorter, they must grow rapidly and mature before a heavy frost. Nature does have a way of taking care of her own.

A downy woodpecker has arrived, and as I write is tapping out a tune on a Boleana poplar near my study window. I've watched him for a time and he's working in a semi-circle as though he plans to tap out an entrance.

Or don't downy woodpeckers live in hollowed trees as their cousins, the redheads? This I must ascertain. He's the first of his kind I've seen out here on Locust Lane. I'm really thinking more of the tree than of the woodpecker. George and I think it's on the way out there and there's not much we can do about it. So many dead limbs have shown this year and we realize Boleana poplars are not long-lived in our climate.

The tadpoles in our pool, it seems to me, have taken a long time to mature. Even now in late July they have only their hind legs, and their tails which they lose are still very apparent. How they swim? Looks as though we'll not have goldfish this summer. I can't put them in the pool until those tadpoles are large enough to defend themselves. But goldfish or not, the dogs certainly cool themselves in the pool. The three-month-old Beagle next door discovered it Saturday and what a splash he had! He tumbles in, head-first, then wades around and climbs out, but the larger dogs just stand appreciating the coolness and drink as they cool.

Sunday I noticed a Collie kneed deep in the coolness and remarked to George: "Look, Miss Battey is in the pool!" She's a beautiful dog belonging to Chick Battey who pays us a call each early morning, and we don't know her name nor do we need to, for to us she will always be "Miss Battey."

My sister, Cyrene, came up from Kansas City and spent the week-end with us. I think that snapshot of her and "Tina Murphy" prompted the visit. She said she had received four of them from various friends and acquaintances. So until another day—

The People Speak

A Woman's Children

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: What has our city come to when any meddling busybody can enter a private home, pass judgment on its state of cleanliness and remove its children?

I have two small children, a good home, a husband who takes care of us and some of the modern time-saving conveniences to help me, but I can't keep my home clean at all times. My babies don't get a bath every day and they sometimes get a rash. What are they doing to that poor young woman who has to take care of her family all alone and whose children have been taken away from her?

I happen to know personally of a family whose children have a long record of criminal offenses. The mother kept her small children at home alone. Her home was filthy and the children ate with neighbors whenever they could get a meal. As each child reaches the age of 12 or 14 he gets in trouble with the authorities for such pranks as car stealing, burglary and running away from home. There is no economic reason for these conditions in this family. Yet the welfare society has constantly upheld this woman and refused to place these children in a better home.

Why then do they kick this other helpless woman when she's down? Did the judge or the woman investigator ever try to take care of even one active youngster? Did any of this woman's neighbors ever offer to supervise the children for an hour or two or to help her in any way?

Give that woman's children back to her and let the law concern itself with the husband who refuses to support them.

Democrats Lost Chance

Curtis, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Democratic convention is ended, and also their chances for victory in November. Not by any stretch of the imagination can Stevenson be regarded as the people's choice. He is the choice of Truman, political bosses and the lower elements of the party who were offended because Kefauver exposed their corruption.

Wiping out corruption will be the big issue in the coming campaign and Eisenhower is our hope to accomplish this. He was not the choice of political bosses and that is in his favor although those bosses will throw up some dust.

What we need is some method of giving the people a voice in the selection of presidential candidates.

Not In Death Throes

Evanston, Ill.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Hoodwinked, bamboozled, flummoxed—the electorate today has almost succumbed to a national hoax; worse yet, we citizens are helping to hoax ourselves. "Look!" say voices over the land. "Shade your eyes from the horrid sight!"

Frightened, we peer through trembling fingers to see a specter labeled: "The Death of the Two-Party System—The Death of the Republican Party Should It Lose in November."

The truth beneath the ghostly garments—which are, after all,

MOTHER DAYS

When I was just a youngster
All mother's days, as I recall,
Began with breakfast for us all.

When neatly dressed was every one
And off to school she watched us run.
The morning dishes must be done.

She made the beds in which we slept;
In order every room she kept.
The chairs she dusted; floors she swept.

When we were safely tucked in bed,
Downstairs to Dad she'd softly tread.
"Now I can rest a bit," she said.

several bed sheets—is this a Republican party so far from death throes as to have elected 25 out of 48 governors; so far removed from this sick-bed crisis as to be elected and luster even in Cook County, Illinois; so alive and kicking that Republican organizations regularly control city after city, county after county, across the country.

The Republican party is far from moribund. It is, rather, a party which on city, county and state levels has grown up enough to face facts, tackle real issues and truly serve the citizens. Only on the national level is the Republican party so immature that the citizenry cannot trust its leadership. Now, like the child who cries he is going to eat worms, that party decks itself in sheets and cries: "I'll bet you'll be sorry when I'm dead."

A Democratic victory in November will not show us the death of the Republican party, but it may hasten the Republican party's national coming-of-age.

Beatrice Veteran Fatally Hurt In Accident

Five Others Are Injured In Collision

BEATRICE, Neb. (P)—Melvin Cox, 21, of Beatrice, bronze star holder from the Korean War, died in a hospital Monday of injuries suffered in an accident which left five others injured, four seriously.

Sheriff E. G. (Ned) Maxwell said Cox was a passenger in a car which collided with an oil transport truck early Sunday at an intersection of Highways 77 and 38, five miles south of Wymore.

Maxwell said the southbound transport was making a left turn off the highway and the car approaching from the south at the time of the accident.

He said Kenneth L. Lowery of Beatrice, driver of the car, told him that lights of a truck following the transport prevented him from seeing the transport until he was close upon it. Then Lowery said he was boxed, with the transport blocking one half the highway as it turned and the truck blocking the other half.

Maxwell said Lowery, Marjorie and Betty Folkers, sisters from Diller, were riding in the front seat and Cox, Jane Rutan of Wymore and Robert Frey of Beatrice in the back.

Sanford A. Lislie of Omaha, driver of the transport truck, was unhurt.

The extent of Lowery's injuries were not learned but Marjorie Folkers had a severe brain concussion, a fractured left leg and lacerations on the head. Her sister suffered concussion, a broken jaw, dislocated hip and head laceration. Jane Rutan had a broken nose and fractured left arm, and Frey had less serious injuries.

The impact of the collision carried away the rear wheels and axle of the truck and caused a small leak in the tank, filled with fuel oil, but there was no fire. The passenger car was demolished.

Cox was awarded the bronze star with V (for valor) for fighting in Korea in March, 1951. He had been discharged from the Army recently and was working in Beatrice. He was a former Beatrice High School athlete.

His death brings Nebraska's 1952 highway death toll to 170, compared with 156 at this time last year.

Summer Band Concerts Retain Popularity

By JOHN SWANSON
(Star Staff Writer)

WEeping WATER, Neb. — One bit of old Americana—the small town municipal band—has vanished from many communities. But in others it still flourishes, as popular as ever.

This little Cass County town is typical of the few of its size which still provide its citizens with a regular summer night band concert.

Many of the small town concerts are presented from band shells or stands in the town park, but others—like Weeping Water—just block off a section of Main Street for the performance.

One summer night recently The Star went to Weeping Water to see and to describe for our readers just what a town concert is like today. Old timers may decide for themselves how much the institution has changed over the years.

Use Farm Wagon

The band, which numbers "about 20" in the words of its manager, presents its weekly concert from the top of an old farm wagon which is towed into the street for the occasion. Temporary extensions turn the wagon bed into a wide platform.

Autos filled with members of the audience fill the roped off section of the street, townspeople line the streets, sitting on benches in front of stores and leaning against buildings. The band tunes up and at 8:30 sharp the concert is on.

With one intermission, the concert lasts about an hour. At the end of each number listeners give out with a modern form of applause by beeping car horns. This is a typical program of the Weeping Water concert:

The Star Spangled Banner
His Honor March
Gypsy Festival
Old Oaken Bucket
Washington Post March
H.M.S. Pinfere
Alice Blue Gown
Tinker Tolla
Our Director March
Stars and Stripes Forever
America

Lawrence Houseman, manager of the band and bass horn player, explained that the city of Weeping Water pays the expenses of the band from its regular funds. He estimated the average weekly attendance at the concert at between two and three hundred persons. "They seem to enjoy it very much," he said.

The coming of well-trained high school bands has spelled the doom of many small municipal bands,

Two Nebraska War Dead Land In U.S.

WASHINGTON (P)—The bodies of two Nebraskans, one a soldier, one a Marine, were among those of 149 Americans who lost their lives in the Korean fighting returned to the United States.

The Department of Defense said they were aboard the Dalton Victory which arrived at the San Francisco port of Embarkation Monday.

The Nebraskans were Army Sgt. Julius R. Gon, son of Phillip P. Coc, Grand Island, and Marine Pfc. Robert L. Clark, husband of Mrs. Jeanette I. Clark, Omaha.

Omahan Named Miss Nebraska

OMAHA (P)—A 17-year-old Omaha girl with stage ambitions is Miss Nebraska of 1952.

Helen Frances Burhorn, who earlier had won the "Miss Omaha" title, was declared the state winner at the conclusion of the evening gown competition at Municipal Stadium.

Betty Lou Searcy, Miss Lincoln, placed second, and Corinne Gaver, Miss Columbus, was third.

Miss Burhorn will turn 18 on Aug. 18. Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Burhorn of Omaha, she is a sophomore at Omaha University.

She "definitely" thinks her talent is her best asset in beauty competition. In the talent division of the Miss Omaha and Miss Nebraska contests, she tap danced and played the piano.

She said she entered the contest in an attempt to win a scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music, New York.

Partial List Of Air Crash Victims Told

DENVER (P)—Officials at Lowry Air Force base Monday released the names of five of the persons aboard a B-25 air force bomber that crashed Sunday near Arthur, Neb.

Six persons died in the crash. The pilot, Col. J. G. Erikson, was the lone survivor. He was assigned to headquarters, United States Air Force, Washington, D. C.

Other men aboard were the co-pilot, Lt. Col. W. W. Ottinger, headquarters, USAF, Washington; Engineer, Tech. Sgt. F. E. Beleny, Andrews AFB, Washington.

Passengers were Airman 2/c R. E. Clines, Elmenworth AFB, Anchorage, Alaska; Ensign W. B. Barthel, headquarters of the U.S. Navy, Washington, D. C.

En Route To Idaho

Names of the other two men were withheld pending notification of next of kin. Lowry AFB officials said they had no information on hometowns of the victims.

The plane en route to Mountain Home, Idaho, had refueled earlier at the Naval Air Center at the Lincoln, Neb., airport. Witnesses who observed the crash from a distance said one engine was afire and the plane exploded after the crash.

The crash scene was in a sparsely settled ranch country in western Nebraska's Sandhills. No fire fighting equipment was immediately accessible at the crash scene and the plane burned for several hours before the blaze was brought under control.

An air rescue squad from Lowry Air Force Base was called to the scene.

Youth Drowns Near Ogallala

OGALLALA, Neb. (P)—Mervyn Waite, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Waite of Stapleton and North Platte, drowned Sunday afternoon in Arthur Bay on the north shore of Lake McConaughy.

The boy, accompanied by Gary Frye of Arthur, had donned swimming trunks and entered the water to cool off.

The two were wading in shoulder deep water. Mervyn got into trouble in some manner and in attempting to fight his way back got into deeper water. The other lad was the only witness and summoned aid.

Ogallala volunteer fire department rescue squad members recovered the body about an hour later in 10 feet of water.

Survivors are the boy's parents and a married sister. Young Waite had been working on the Frye ranch in Arthur County.

Reconsideration Of Cab Request Asked

OMAHA (P)—Gordon Preble of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Federation of Labor, asked the state railway commission to reconsider its decision against the Gillard Cab Company of Omaha.

The commission last week turned down Gillard's request for a license to operate on grounds it would result in "duplication of facilities and competition." The vote was 2-1.

Preble said "I do not understand the commission when it says Omaha needs no more cabs."

He said in bad weather cab patrons sometimes must wait two hours or more for cab service. In some cases the major cab firms do not even answer their telephones, he said.

Plans August Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bohner are this morning announcing the engagement and the approaching marriage of their daughter, Frances Jeanne, to John C. Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bauer of Beatrice. The wedding will take place on Sunday, August 24, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Miss Bohner is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and the University of Nebraska school of nursing. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Mr. Bauer will be graduated next January from the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Delta Sigma Pi.

Just A Bit Of Pampering

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

After seeing Katie Hepburn's bathing facilities in her latest film, consisting solely of a murky river in tropical, steamy Africa, you will never again be satisfied with a mere quick dunk in your tub. You'll treasure your bath luxuries and the fresh water that streams from your shower or into your glistening tub and want to make the most of your privilege by enjoying long, leisurely bath rites.

That's the kind of bath that does you the most good, too, and the reason why it's best to take yours after your day's work. It will soothe your aching, soothed nerves and be a boon to both your body and health.

Sure Cooler
At this season of the year, the preferred bath is the relaxing cooler, for which you will need not cold, but warm water and plenty of it. Warm water cools you the most because it dilates the blood vessels, bringing internal heat to the surface of the skin where it can escape. The water will have a siren sibilant if you add fragrant bath crystals, bubbles or oil.

Be sure that the soap you favor also favors you. There's a beautifying type for every type of skin—dry, oily or normal. An extra plus is found in soaps containing hexachlorophene which helps to ward off perspiration odors for hours after use.

When lathering with brush or cloth, make your motions thorough, of course, but be gentle to avoid stimulating circulation to the point of generating more heat. For the same reason, pat yourself dry with your towel instead of rubbing. If you have time, let your body air-dry; it's the best cooler and refresher of all!

Finish with a renewal of your deodorant, an application of smoothing lotion to skin that is sun-dried, a touch of cooling cologne, a swish of body powder over your mid-section and dress in fresh clothing from the skin out.

Cool Haven

Dust your shoes with a foot-easing and deodorizing powder. Hold your make-up to a minimum and slick your hair to perfection.

You'll be a cool, collected, calming influence all evening long on those who mean the most to you and a most welcome sight to anyone after a busy day. Organize your time so you can take time to pamper yourself daily with this beauty and spirit-renewing kind of bath!

No Dullards Around Town

OH ME! THINGS seem a little dull today—or rather they did until we rolled up our sleeves and went to work—Then we found that the dullness, as usual, was merely a state of mind—our own. Picked up a few travelers—an almost equal number of homecomers, and have some very nice guests to mention—

AND SINCE we have opened the subject of guests we know there will be many who will be sorry not to have seen Captain A. E. Loomis, USN, Mrs. Loomis and their two daughters, Malina and Anna Lisa, when they stopped in Lincoln a few days ago—Captain and Mrs. Loomis and their daughters, as you know, were transferred from Lincoln to Norfolk, Va., about a year ago—Now they have made another change—Captain Loomis is to be on an aircraft carrier, we hear—So, the family visited briefly in Lincoln en route to the west coast where the navy officer will assume his latest assignment, and where Mrs. Loomis and her daughters will return to their old home at Coronado, Calif.

During their stay the visitors were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Paul.

THEN WE learned that Mrs. W. F. Jones had arrived from White Plains, N. Y., to spend ten days as the house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Woodward. Incidentally, you will be interested in another guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodward—Mrs. Fonda Rock, of Sioux City, Ia., the former Pauline Gellatly, who arrives today or, at the latest, Wednesday morning.

THOSE TRAVELERS we mentioned all were Minnesota bound—Understand that Mrs. A. C. Lau left Monday morning for her summer home at Pelican Lake—accompanied by Mrs. Herbert E. Gooch who is to be her house guest—And also on their way to Pelican Lake on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Jung, whose visit there, we hear, will be not so long as usual—

AND ONE thing always leads to another—such as the mention of Mrs. Lau leaving for Minnesota reminds us of the fact that her home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Will Raymond during her absence.

HAVE A party on the calendar for tomorrow evening—It is the china shower for which Miss Dorothy Brandt and Miss Clarice Sweeney will be hostesses on Wednesday evening, at the home of Miss Sweeney, when they honor Miss Norma Jean Dana whose marriage to John Sinclair will take place on September 14. Ten guests have been invited for an informal evening and the shower.

DELVING INTO late week we we came up with a picnic—It seems that Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ames will be host and hostess to 25 guests at a picnic "out in the country" on Saturday evening.

SOMEONE TOLD us that Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Hawke were due to arrive home on Monday evening from Alexandria, Minn., where they had been visiting at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Sidles.

HEARD, TOO, that Bill DeVries and Duffy Olson, who have been doing some cruising with Uncle Sam, will be back in town about August 7—And about the same time Sammy Olson, who now is the house guest of Johnny Stuart at Hackensack, Minn., also will be returning home.

THIS IS the day that Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Spencer and their two children, Dick and Nancy Lee, arrive in Lincoln from Guam for a visit with members of their family, and friends. Dr. and Mrs. Spencer and their family eventually will go to American Samoa where Dr. Spencer will be director of education.

SOMEONE TOLD us, too, that Miss Shirley Sidles would be returning home from Europe where she has been spending the summer traveling.

A POST CARD to Lincoln friends from the Sam Waugh tells of the wonderful time Mr. and Mrs. Waugh are having in Helsinki where they are attending the Olympics.

Anniversary Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. John Gerlach celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last Saturday evening when members of their family entertained at dinner at Cotner Terrace. Out of town guests at the dinner, for which places were arranged for twenty, included a son, Reuben Gerlach, of Broken Bow; and Mrs. Fred Crabill of Lorton, Kans. Lincoln members of the family included Mr. and Mrs. Gerlach's sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gerlach, their children, Larry and Mollie Ann; and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Gerlach, their son, Kent and daughter, Laurel Lee.

A son-in-law and daughter, Major and Mrs. Franklin Knudsen and their daughters, Lorraine and Diane of Savannah, Ga., could not be in Lincoln for the celebration, but will come in August for a visit with the family.

Visitors From Georgia

Arriving from Atlanta, Ga., a few days ago were Mr. and Mrs. Jack DuTeau and their sons, Gary and Russ, who are the house guests of Mr. DuTeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin DuTeau.

Bride At Garden Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Evelyn L. Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith A. Hays of Diller, to Herman H. Harding of Ft. Riley, Kans., was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock, Thursday evening, July 24, in the garden of the home of the bride's parents in Diller. Lighted white candles in pedestals candelabra, and arrangements of white gladioli, formed the background for the service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. E. E. Powell of Blue Springs, who also had officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Max Logan of Diller, pianist, played the wedding music, and accompanied Robert L. Hays, brother of the bride, vocalist.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. William G. Moser of Marysville, Kans., and Mrs. John Patras of Diller, was bridesmatron. The honor attendant, in aqua, and Mrs. Patras, in maize, wore identical frocks designed with lace bodices and full net skirts. Their net mitts and wide-brimmed hats were in the frock tones, and they carried nosegays of white and pink asters. Miss Ilona Colgrove of Odell, and Miss Jean Mae Nehrig, Marysville, Kans., lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Patricia Kay Hays of Diller.

A molded bodice of Chantilly lace designed the bride's colonial gown. Scaallops of the lace formed the drop-shoulder yoke, and the sleeves were long and fitted. The circular skirt of nylon, ended in a train, and her illusion veil was held by a lace cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible ornamented with a cluster of pink rosebuds and Stephanotis, and wore a single strand of pearls, worn by her mother as a bride. Pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, completed her costume.

John Patras of Diller, served as best man, and the ushers were William Sapp and Melvin Hubka, both of Diller, and William G. Moser of Marysville, Kans. Duane Colgrove was ring-bearer.

A reception for one hundred seventy-five guests was held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left for a trip to the Ozarks.

Water Main Cost Is Set At $98,000

The City Council has approved a $98,000 estimate for the purchase of pipe and fittings for construction of a new water feeder main in 20th from Washington to Calvert.

Construction of the main, said City Engineer D. L. Erickson, may start this fall. Fortunately, he said, the pipe and fittings are available.

The new main, he said, is aimed at increasing water pressure in the area to be served. It is the first such construction to be done this year.

Other plans for improvements to the city's water system have been delayed for a week. It is expected to take that long to ready a contract for Council approval calling for the hiring of Black and Veatch, consulting engineers from Kansas City, Mo., to make a study of the existing system.

Schlaebitz Named Tax Commissioner By City Council

William A. Schlaebitz has been appointed city tax commissioner by the City Council to succeed P. H. Mathews who has retired. Schlaebitz has been with the treasury department for 29 years and served as deputy commissioner the past 15 years. The job of tax commissioner pays $4,400 a year.

Dean's Retirement Approved
In other personnel matters, the Council approved the retirement from the police department of Guy C. Dean. Dean has been with the department since Sept. 30, 1930.

Also approved was the payment to Lee Paulsen of more than $200 under the firemen's pension law. Paulsen has been receiving $12.50 a week disability pay as the result of an injury sustained while in the line of duty as a fireman.

The $200 is the difference between the regular $70 a month retirement pay and the weekly allotment Paulsen received from March, 1951. The $70 monthly will be paid Paulsen until his disability pay is settled in court.

On Some Unsung Heroes

MR. A. J. Lewandowski, business manager of athletics at the University of Nebraska, swung back a swivel chair in his coliseum office and commented:

"One thing you must say about the west stands of Memorial Stadium. There isn't a building on the university campus that sees more service."

Most citizens think only of the sitspots provided for Cornhusker football games. That's only a small part of the use derived from the west part of the stadium.

From south to north, underneath the stands, we have such departments as (1) the university print shop under the able direction of Ralph B. Scott, (2) photographic, (3) office supplies, (4) building and grounds office, (5) purchasing and materials, (6) furniture, (7) vehicles and mechanics, (8) plumbing, carpentry, painting and all other forms of maintenance.

Mr. Scott is also guardian of the stadium press box and nowhere in college football is there a better watch dog. Scotty can keep non-working pests out of press row like nobody in the business.

To facilitate easier loading of trucks, a new driveway has been installed at the south end of the west stadium. This, along with another new entrance (for stadium patrons) at the north end adds to the list of summer improvements.

Lew and Groundskeeper Walt Renter, another hard-working citizen, installed that attractive cyclone fence around the premises a year ago. Up until that, an old board fence, has circled the grounds since 1925.

Colonel Floyd Bottorff, of course, is master of the field house. He's one of the handiest all-around guys around athletic equipment in the nation. His handiwork and ability to improvise have saved the university thousands of greenbacks over the years.

While tossing out these deserved laurels among the university gentry, we can't forget Miss Grace Durkee, Lew's assistant in the ticket office. She knows her business, inside and out, and knows how to handle people—enough said.

IT isn't often these days that a baseball or softball team takes time to honor its bat boy.

That happened at Muni the other night when the Lincoln School of Commerce girls and boys softball teams presented their bat boy, Garry Powell, age nine, with a team roster and wrist watch by the players.

Both teams gathered at Garry's home at 535 South 22nd to make the presentation.

Garry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loran J. Powell and the type of son any parents would be proud of, is a pretty happy lad these days.

SINCE delving into dog lore here recently, we've received several yarns on man's best friend.

This one concerns a pup owned by young Gibby Hedges, son of Del Hedges, the former football and basketball star at Wesleyan.

His dog named Joe, who has strains of wire-haired terrier in him, was left by Hedges at the home of his father, Gilbert Hedges, in Roca while Del and his family went to New Mexico. Del now lives in Fremont.

Joe, the dog, got homesick after a day or so on the farm and took off. The trip to Fremont was too much, so he did the next best thing.

He hiked all the way to Del's brother-in-law, Glenn Large, at 2778 "E" Street in Lincoln. Joe had been there numerous times before and knew where to go.

So tired and hungry, its paws and legs sore and swollen, Joe wound up his 14-mile hike at the Large residence. Upon arrival, he promptly fell into exhausted sleep with his four legs sticking straight up in the air.

Glenn is keeping a keen eye on Joe these days just in case he gets impatient and starts for a reunion with the Hedges in New Mexico.

Hrabcsak's Five-Hitter No Avail As A's Lose, 1-0

By NORRIS ANDERSON (Sports Editor, The Star)

A tidy five-hit pitching job by Ed "King Size" Hrabcsak went for naught Monday night as the Lincoln A's dropped a 1-0 decision to the league-leading Colorado Springs Sky Sox.

Home attendance has soared to 40,340 as the Denver Bears now invade Sherman Field to-night for the start of a three-game series and the first of the A's remaining 22 home games. Lincoln drew only 37,123 during the entire 1951 season.

Trouble was this cool evening that the A's bats equalled the 68-degree thermometer.

Manager Les Bell's hearties had gill-edged opportunities in the third, fifth and sixth, but simply could not muster any clutch punch.

Besppectacled Don Robertson, newly arrived on the Colorado Springs scene, limited the A's to four hits and acted like an old hand with men on base.

In sweeping a three-game series from the A's, the Sky Sox proved they could produce without the services of J. W. Porter, the $60,000 bonus outfielder who is leading the Western League in hitting at .360.

Porter left before game time for St. Louis where he will join Bill Veech's Browns. He came to the Browns as part of a deal that sent Jim Rivera and Darrell Johnson to the Chicago White Sox, who own the Colorado Springs club.

"It is a shame sending a 19-year-old youngster to the majors in the middle of a minor league season," commented Manager Don Guttridge of the Sky Sox. "I hope he doesn't lose his confidence."

In a crisp 1-55 game, the Sky Sox scored in the seventh. Bob Kellogg doubled to left and came home on Sam Hairston's single to center. It was as simple as that.

Hrabcsak who fanned 10, and Robertson otherwise were locked in an old-style mound duel that was whetted by top-drawer fielding on both sides.

The A's had men on third and first in the third, with one out, yet couldn't bring them in as Junior Reedy and Bobby Gardner grounded into easy forces at second.

Bill Hockenbury doubled and moved to third on Shantz's infield out in the fifth. He then died there as Hrabcsak struck out and Trew grounded out.

Three walks, a wild pitch and Gardner's sacrifice loaded up the bases in the sixth with two outs. Hockenbury, however, ended this chance by grounding out, second to first.

Robertson found his control and set the A's down in 1-2-3 order in the last three frames.

Until the Sky Sox uprising in the seventh, Hrabcsak had tossed 15 straight scoreless innings. His last outing was a whitewash of Wichita, the team that had last scored upon him in the last inning at the Indians' park, July 18.

Jersey Joe Walcott's Crown Brockton Brawler's Next Goal

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Vicious Rocky Marciano crumpled Harry Matthews, the pride of the great northwest, with two crunching left hooks to the jaw Monday night to score a spectacular knock-out win in 2:04 of the second round at Yankee Stadium.

Earning a September title shot at Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott, 27-year-old Rocky, unbeaten in 42 straight fights, dumped Matthews flat on his back in his own corner—almost in the lap of his manager, Jack Hurley—with the two thundering hooks.

Marciano Raring For Crack At Champ; Hurley Disgusted

By The Associated Press

"I CAN lick anybody I step in the ring with," yelled happy Marciano in the bedlam of his dressing room a few minutes after he had pole-axed Harry Matthews Monday night.

"I'm ready for Jersey Joe Walcott," he added as he posed for photographers. "I don't say how I'll come out with Joe. I never make predictions. But I'm ready for him."

Sombody in the packed cubicle under Yankee Stadium shouted "were you afraid of the rain?" referring to the suddenness of the outcome, and the muscular, darkly-tanned victor yelled back "Yeah, that was it. I was in a hurry."

Marciano said he ended it with

The 29-year-old Matthews from Seattle, unbeaten since 1943, wore a bewildered expression on his pain-drawn face as he went down with his head against the ropes.

Gamely trying to gather his numbed senses, Matthews clawed at the ropes as he tried to pull himself off the deck. As the West Coast fighter started to rise, he collapsed over the bottom rope like a limp rag doll. Referee Ray Miller tolled off the final 10 count.

Marciano weighed 187½ and Matthews 179.

a right high on Matthews' head, followed by two left hooks in rapid succession soon after the second round began. Few witnesses recalled anything except the paralyzing left which dumped the Northwest boxer to the floor.

"He hurt me a little with a left hook in the first round," Marciano volunteered. "Nothing very bad, but I felt it. The two rights he hit me in the first didn't shake me up like the left did. He was a little stronger than I thought he would be."

Marciano was unmarked except for a slight discoloration around his left eye, the effect of a punch received in the opening seconds of the bout.

In Matthews' dressing room, Jack Hurley, usually effusive manager, registered disgust at the performance of "The Athlete."

"Harry was a glorified amateur for 10 years and tonight he reverted to type, I guess."

He meant that for 10 years as a pro, before Hurley started managing him, Matthews fought like an amateur and it was in that role that he got clipped by the rock-throwing Brockton fighter.

"He drew away from punches three times in the second round; the first two jarred him and the third put him out. He never should have done that. He had no right to do it, but he did. He should beat Marciano and he can beat him."

"The first round was the pattern of the fight, Matthews could have gone, 10, 12, 15 rounds that way and busted up Rocky and maybe knocked him out. But Rocky clipped him and you can't criticize success."

Matthews, unmarked and with only a sheepish grin to indicate that the evening hadn't been a complete success for him, had little to say and no ally.

Hurley was asked if he would seek a return match. He snorted disdainfully.

"Harry don't deserve it now. All I can do is give him the opportunity. He muffed it tonight."

Reed Sparkles For Viewmen

Rightfielder Jean Reed of the College View A team turned in a sparkling fielding performance and in addition shone at the plate as his teammates thumped Antelope, 12-5, in a Midget Baseball League game Monday afternoon.

Reed's fielding gem came when he stopped a hard-hit grounder into deep rightfield and threw the runner out at first. He also hit a home run to assist the victors' cause.

Pitcher Dick struck out 12 Antelope batsmen for the top mound performance of the afternoon.

The Antelope B team topped the Viewmen B aggregation, 13-6, in the only other game scheduled.

Satch Paige Wins First Start As Senators Fall

From Press Dispatches

OLD Satchel Paige had his day Monday as the St. Louis Browns defeated the Washington Senators, 6-3, one of three games scheduled in the major leagues.

Upsets appeared to be the rule rather than the exception as the Detroit Tigers threw the hooks umph of the year, topping his previous major league high of six victories in a season.

Gerry Staley was the winner as the Cardinals cut Brooklyn's lead over the idle New York Giants to four games.

Staley won his 13th game of the season and got his team a series sweep with a four-hitter. He lost his shutout in the ninth when the Dodgers scored twice with the help of a double, a walk and a couple of St. Louis errors.

St. Louis clustered four of its nine hits off Loser Ben Wade in the fifth for two tallies. The victory margin was supplied by Del Rice's homer with the bases empty in the sixth.

The Tigers, led by the heavy hitting of Walt Dropo and the effective pitching of "Prince" Hal Newhouser, won their fourth tilt in their five-game series and cut the league leading New Yorkers' lead to three games over the second place Cleveland Indians.

Dropo pounded out two homers, his 17th and 18th of the season. One came in the third inning with nobody on base and the second came in the fifth with Johnny Hopp aboard.

Starting Pitcher Harry Schaffer's wildness plus Gil McDougal's costly error permitted three runs in the opening frame.

Joe Ostrowski relieved Schaffer in the seventh and was touched for one run. In the eighth inning the Tigers pushed over four more

Egypt's New Army-Backed Government Gets Backing Of Strong Wafdist Party

Maher Pasha

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Army-backed government of Premier Aly Maher Pasha got the blessing of the powerful Wafdist party Monday for its drive to end corruption and wipe out the last traces of ex-King Farouk's reign.

Former Wafdist Premier Mustapha El-Mahrouk said the party's backing was a warning to approaching motorists to yield the right of way at intersections where traffic is approaching from the other direction. They are also meant to act as a warning of a dangerous intersection.

The signs have been in operation on a trial basis at five intersections in the past year. Police Department officials report a material reduction in accidents at crossings where the signs are in use.

Another third reading ordinance approved was creation of a sewer district in Starr, 51st and 52nd and the alley between Holdrege and Aylesworth and 50th and 52nd. A contract had been awarded for construction of the district under terms of another ordinance.

Storm sewer plans in the area, however, necessitated a change in sanitary sewer plans so the new ordinance had to be drawn. Other ordinances approved on third reading were:

Vacation of a section of 63rd at its intersection with K and J. Granting to Omaha, Lincoln & Beatrice Railway Company the right to construct a spur track over 27th near Lehigh. Faving of Madison, 44th to 45th. Water in Merrill, 32nd to 33rd and 33rd to 34th.

The following ordinances were introduced: Plat of Riley Acres running on 35th and 36th from K to L. Graves of Saunders, 9th to Cornhusker Highway. Faving of the alley between O and N and 7th and 8th.

A resolution was approved ordering the widening of Summit, 53rd to 150 feet east and from 55th to 56th.

Dougan Is Given Year For Grand Larceny

Carl A. Dougan, 37, 224 B, was sentenced to one year in the Penitentiary by District Judge Harry A. Spencer after he pleaded guilty to grand larceny charges.

Dougan admitted taking $300 from Frank G. Kessler, 224 B, who said the money had been in a sack in a cigar box under the dresser in his bedroom. Dougan was visiting Kessler, who is his uncle. Dougan told police he was angry with Kessler.

Butler Has Luncheon Date With Eisenhower

CAMBRIDGE, Neb. (AP)—Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) said he will have lunch with Republican Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower in Denver Tuesday at Eisenhower's request.

Butler said the invitation from Sen. Eisenhower apparently stemmed from a telegram he sent Eisenhower after his nomination by the Republican national convention, saying that Butler would support him and would co-operate in his campaign.

Pen Inmate Is Granted Writ Of Habeas Corpus

District Judge Harry A. Spencer has granted a writ of habeas corpus to Edward McKenna, Penitentiary inmate who last week filed a hand-written 110-page petition for the writ.

Judge Spencer ordered trial on the hearing on Aug. 11. His action gives McKenna a chance to produce whatever evidence he has to show alleged irregularities in his trial.

McKenna was sentenced to 17 years in the Penitentiary on habitual criminal charges, after he had acted as his own lawyer before the Saline County jury. The trial was in March, 1951. He had previously filed unsuccessful requests for a release from prison.

'Right Of Way' Signs Okayed By City Council

Installation of yield of right of way signs has been legalized by the City Council with third reading of the ordinance establishing the sign law.

The markers will be placed at various intersections to act as a warning to approaching motorists to yield the right of way at intersections where traffic is approaching from the other direction. They are also meant to act as a warning of a dangerous intersection.

The signs have been in operation on a trial basis at five intersections in the past year. Police Department officials report a material reduction in accidents at crossings where the signs are in use.

Gov. Peterson Expects 2-Week Air Force Call

Gov. Val Peterson is anticipating a call for a tour of active duty with the Air Force to start about Aug. 1. He holds a commission as colonel in the reserves and the tours of duty usually last two weeks. He has been assigned as a deputy director of material since 1949 and no change was announced with his promotion to colonel.

NEW VITAS, Cuba (AP)—Four strange, luminous objects were reported over this north coast Cuban port. The objects moved in formation, at great speed. Hundreds of citizens reported seeing them.

Dougan Is Given Year For Grand Larceny

Carl A. Dougan, 37, 224 B, was sentenced to one year in the Penitentiary by District Judge Harry A. Spencer after he pleaded guilty to grand larceny charges.

Dougan admitted taking $300 from Frank G. Kessler, 224 B, who said the money had been in a sack in a cigar box under the dresser in his bedroom. Dougan was visiting Kessler, who is his uncle. Dougan told police he was angry with Kessler.

Butler Has Luncheon Date With Eisenhower

CAMBRIDGE, Neb. (AP)—Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) said he will have lunch with Republican Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower in Denver Tuesday at Eisenhower's request.

Butler said the invitation from Sen. Eisenhower apparently stemmed from a telegram he sent Eisenhower after his nomination by the Republican national convention, saying that Butler would support him and would co-operate in his campaign.

Pen Inmate Is Granted Writ Of Habeas Corpus

District Judge Harry A. Spencer has granted a writ of habeas corpus to Edward McKenna, Penitentiary inmate who last week filed a hand-written 110-page petition for the writ.

Judge Spencer ordered trial on the hearing on Aug. 11. His action gives McKenna a chance to produce whatever evidence he has to show alleged irregularities in his trial.

McKenna was sentenced to 17 years in the Penitentiary on habitual criminal charges, after he had acted as his own lawyer before the Saline County jury. The trial was in March, 1951. He had previously filed unsuccessful requests for a release from prison.
